Democrats Pretend Many are Making Speeches Who are Not

Colonel Joe Potter Has Made No
Speeches and Is Not Wanted to Now.

WANT TO DECEIVE DEMOCRAT

The inexcusable mendacity of the local Democratic organ in regard to local politics is becoming more apparent every day.

For the purpose of making people think that certain well known politicians and Democrats are out speaking and working for the Democratic ticket, the paper is publishing a list of names some of the men on which have not promised to speak, have not spoken and do not intend to speak, for the Democratic ticket. Some are not supporting it and to use their names as making speeches for the ticket is only another effort to make the ignorant believe that the Democratic ticket is receiving some support.

For instance Saturday's News-Democrat
said in its news columns:

"Attorney J. C. Flournoy and Colonel Joe E. Potter spoke to a fair sized crowd Friday night at Gallman's store on the North Side, in the interest of the Democratic municipal ticket. These gentlemen are excellent stump speakers and they aroused a great deal of enthusiasm. There will be speaking all over the city for the Democratic ticket from now until the close of the campaign."

Colonel Potter did not speak and the statement that he did speak was designed solely to make some of his friends and supporters think he was out working for the Democratic ticket, with a hope of inducing them to work and vote for it. Colonel Potter is telling his friends that he did not speak.

It is understood that he was asked to speak and said that he would speak for the ticket if the Democratic campaign managers were willing for him to say what he pleased. They were not willing for him to do this, it seems, and he was taken off the list.

Colonel Potter is a Democrat of the type who would never, in the estimation of his friends, get out and work for any ticket on which are half a dozen or more former gold bugs, men who a few years ago were working and voting against the Democratic tickets. Colonel Potter would never break his neck to get out and work for a ticket like that, his friends are quite certain, although he may vote for it because going into the primary pledges him to vote for it.

Colonel Potter is not the only Democrat being published as a speaker for the ticket by the score every day.
Colonel Potter's friends, from what can be learned, resent the false reports that are being published about him. One said today:

"Joe Potter is a Democrat, and he always, so far as we know and believe, voted the Democratic ticket. He was beat by the gang in the recent primary and is man enough to take his medicine straight and vote for the nominees, but he will never, in our opinion, get out and work for a ticket that is so generously besprinkled with those bolters who a few years ago voted against both the state and national Democratic tickets, and will never recommend such a ticket to any one else as worthy of support."

Colonel Potter himself was asked about the reports and stated that when he was asked to speak by the Democrats he said he would speak for the Democratic ticket, but that men who knew him knew that when he spoke he would say whatever he wanted to.
That the day of the speaking one of the campaign managers came around and notified him that the speaking had been called off. As a matter of fact it was not called off, and Mr. J. C.
Flournoy, who was to speak with Colonel Potter, made his speech Friday night and nothing further has been said to Colonel Potter, indicating clearly that he is not desired as a speaker.

Colonel Potter was asked by a re-

THE SUNDAY SERVICES

Mr. Frank H. Gamel Delivered
Two Addresses.

Rev. G. M. McNeilly to Be Ordained
at First Baptist Church Wednesday Night.

OTHER NEWS FROM CHURCHES

Mr. Frank H. Gamel, of Toledo, Ohio, delivered a forceful and attractive address at the First Christian church last night under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association of this city. It was illustrated with stereopticon views, which added to its impressiveness. Mr. Gamel is one of the leading students of the boy problem in the country, and his address which is entitled "The American Boy, His Franks, Perils and Possibilities," abounds in striking pictures of boy life, and contains strong appeals to older people who are responsible for the boy's training, to make the most of his generous, buoyant nature and to protect him from the temptations by which he is constantly assailed.

Mr. Charles H. Rhodes, a soloist who accompanies Mr. Gamel, rendered
"The Holy City," with stereopticon illustrations, before the lecture, in an effective manner. Mr. Gamel and Mr. Rhodes were at the Y. M. C. A. building Sunday afternoon, when Mr. Gamel delivered a lecture to men only on "The Young Man That Wins."
These addresses were made particularly in the interest of the boys' depart-

Sped Two Bullets Fired Near Midnight.

John Flood Charged With Trying to Kill Miss Neal Through Jealousy.

SHOTS FIRED INTO HER ROOM

John Flood, a painter formerly employed by the I. C. railroad, who boards at the residence of Mr. F. Arts, on North Seventh street, was arrested
this morning near his boarding house
by Officers Thad Terrell and E. E.
Wallace on suspicion of having shot into the residence of Mr. George Neal, of Ninth and Boyd streets last night
about 11 o'clock, and nearly striking Mr. Neal's daughter, who was asleep on a couch near the door.

Flood is an admirer of Neal's daughter and had been calling on her regularly until Ran Randolph, another suitor came along, and, according to reports paid her attentions and left Flood among the also rans. Miss Neal claims Flood, as a result, had on several occasions threatened her life and also that of Randolph, saying that when he had killed them both he would then end his own life.

Mr. Neal, the father, who is employed at the railroad shops, appeared at the city hall this morning and swore out a warrant against Flood,
who is being held to wait the action of the examining court tomorrow morning. Mr. Neal and his family retired early last night and about 11 o'clock were awakened by some one shooting. The first shot fired entered the front door and passed through the bed covering of the couch where the daughter was lying. The young lady's thigh was slightly wounded by the bullet, which lodged in the wall and was picked out by Mr. Neal, who had it at the city hall this morning.
The other bullet entered the house
through the window and passed through the ceiling without doing any harm.

Neal got up and went to the door as soon as possible but could see no one about his premises. He notified the officers who began to work up the case resulting in the arrest of Flood.

It is claimed that a strong chain of circumstantial evidence has been discovered by which it is intended to show that Flood had made certain threats to shoot the young lady, Mr.
Randolph, and then himself, and that he is the only person who had any motive to shoot into the young lady's room. Considerable excitement was created in the neighborhood by the shooting, but Flood had no idea he was suspected until taken to the city hall and the warrant was issued and served on him.

linois Central section grading gang,
was struck by a train at Tillington,

from which he died later, in the hospital at Memphis.

It was thought here by relatives that he might be Mr. Joe Stallings, formerly of Paducah, who has been working in Memphis, but this proved to be a mistake. The deceased lived at Biloxie, Miss., and has a wife and seven children at Mobile, Alabama.

THE YOUNG MAN AND THE LION.

Find His Father.

A certain rich man, lord of a great estate, had an only son, of whom he was dotingly fond. The Young Man delighted in hunting, and went every day into the forest in chase of wild beasts. His father believed firmly in dreams, omens, prognostics, and the like, and, dreaming one night that his son was killed by a Lion, resolved that he should not go to the forest any more. He therefore built a spacious tower, and kept the Young Man there closely confined. That his captivity might be less tedious to bear, he surrounded him with books, music, and pictures; and on the walls of the tower were painted in life-size all the beasts of the chase, and among the rest a Lion. The Young Man stood one day gazing for a long time at this picture; and, vexation at his unreasonable confinement getting the mastery over him, he struck the painted Lion a violent blow with his fist, saying: "Thou, cruel savage, art the cause of all my grief." The point of a nail in the wainscot under the canvas entered his hand: the wound became inflamed, festered, and mortified; and the Youth died from its effects.

Moral—What can be more absurd than the practice of those credulous fools, who, having faith enough to believe in the veracity of oracles, had the impudence or stupidity to try to defeat them afterwards. This was making a god with one hand and throwing him away with the other.

What Father Said.

Willie—Well, now that you've come, I suppose I'll have to go for the doctor.
Cholly—Why, Willie?
Willie—Father says you always make him sick.

Heroic Pat.

Shipwrecked Mariner (who has just sighted land)—Hello, Pat! What are you going to do?
Pat—Shure, bedad, Ol'm going to swim ashore an' save myself an' thin swim back an' save you!

LINCOLN'S COUSIN

HE IS EIGHTY YEARS OLD AND LIVES IN CALDWELL COUNTY.

(Madisonville Hustler.)

A cousin of Abraham Lincoln is still living in Caldwell county at the ripe age of eighty years. He was the son of Henry Hanks, a brother of Nancy Hanks, who was the mother of Abraham Lincoln. His name is Robert H. Hanks, and he is now eighty years old and living in a small cottage east of the Princeton graded school building. He has lived here all his life and has never lived a mile from his birthplace, where he first saw the light of day, July 14, 1823.

He was never arrested by civil or military authorities; never served on a grand or petit jury, never testified against any one, never gossiped about any one, and his religion has ever been to pay your debts, attend to your own business, and if you cannot speak a good word of your neighbor not to talk at all.

He has never ridden 100 miles on any railroad. He never held but one office—town marshal, by appointment. This he soon resigned, because he could not dun his hard-pressed friends for taxes or arrest his neighbor boy for offenses.

He has been married but once, and his wife is still living. He always taught his children to obey and respect the law, and to be honest.

He never attended a barn dance, barbecue or picnic in his life; not that he is opposed to such, but because he had a large family to support and had no time to waste. He was an old-time Whig and cast his first vote for Clay for President. He is now a Republican, but takes no active part in politics, and never made a public speech. During the civil war he never reported Southern sympathizers and often used his influence and means to get his southern friends out of trouble.

Mr. F. W. Kett-john and wife went to Cedar Bluff this morning.

SEEKS FUNDS.

STATE COLLEGE WANTS A LEGISLATIVE APPROPRIATION OF $150,000.

New buildings are needed by State College, at Lexington, and a movement is on foot to secure an appropriation of $150,000 from the next Legislature for their erection. The college has been growing rapidly, and this year has an enrollment of more than 700.

State College is not dependent for its support on the tuition of students, but is maintained by appropriations of $30,000 from the Federal and $45,000 from the State governments. The Kentucky Experiment station, a branch of the institution gets a fee of $15,000 from the government, and about $25,000 annually is derived from the analysis of commercial fertilizers, which is required by the state.

DO YOU WANT TO YAWN?

Feel cold shiverings, aching in the bones, lack of energy, headache and great depression? These symptoms may be followed by violent headache, high fever, extreme nervousness, a condition known as malaria. Herbine cures it. Take it before the disease gets a fair hold, though it will work a cure in any stage. J. A. Hopkins, Manchester, Kan., writes: "I have used your great medicine, Herbine, for several years. There is nothing better for malaria, chills and fever, headache, biliousness and for a blood purifying tonic, there is nothing as good." 50c at DuBois, Kolb & Co.

TO MURRAY.

GOV. BECKHAM AND CROWD LEAVE.

Governor J. C. W. Beckham, who spent last evening in the city, left this morning for Murray with a band of ten pieces and several prominent state politicians to speak this afternoon.

They have prepared to have a big blowout at Murray and expect a great demonstration on part of the Democrats of that section of the state. Deal's band of ten pieces was taken from Paducah to furnish music and among the many who left this morning were Congressman Ollie James, Charles Emery, receiver at the Hopkinsville asylum; Captain W. O. Clark, candidate for representative; Clem Whittemore, member of the state central committee and J. H. Keys of Murray, county clerk of Calloway. Messrs. Robert Parrish and Captain Henry Bailey, of Paducah, also went along.

A WOMAN'S COMPLEXION.

It is rank foolishness to attempt to remove sallowness or greyness of the skin by the use of cosmetics, or "local" treatment as advocated by the "beauty doctors." The only safe and sure way that a woman can improve her complexion is by purifying and enriching the blood, which can only be accomplished by keeping the liver healthy and active. The liver is the seat of disease and blood pollution. Green's August Flower acts directly on the liver, cleanses and enriches the blood, purifies the complexion. It also cures constipation, biliousness, nervousness, and induces refreshing sleep. A single bottle of August Flower has been known to cure the most pronounced and distressing cases of dyspepsia and indigestion. New trial size bottle, 25 cents; regular size, 75 cents. At all druggists. DuBois, Kolb & Co.

Suddenly With Pain Around Heart,

Shortness of Breath and Suffocation.

Dr. Miles' Heart Cure Cured Me.

"I read your symptoms of neuralgia of the heart and they correspond exactly with my trouble. I was suddenly taken with pain around the heart, attacks of shortness of breath, and a suffocating feeling. I could not lie down for three or four weeks. My home doctor gave me no relief and I thought I would test Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and Nerve Plasters. I got one bottle and a plaster and took the former strictly according to directions, besides, placed a plaster over my left breast. The deep seated pain was gone before the first bottle had been taken and I could draw a long breath for the first time in over a year. I took four bottles of the Heart Cure, and am convinced it saved my life and I think fully as well of the Nerve Plasters. They draw out soreness and pain and bring instant relief. I will add when my trouble was at its worst that the palpitation of my heart shook the bed under me. I could not think of lying on my left side, which was so sore that I could not bear the weight of my arm to rest on it. The disagreeable symptoms have left me and thanks to your Heart Cure, I can never praise it enough."—Mrs. C. BLACK, Charleston, S. C.

Sudden pains around the heart are known as heart spasms. The heart is a hollow muscle and heart spasms, or cramp, is similar to that of other muscles, except that the former are the frequent cause of sudden death. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure will cure and prevent. All druggists sell and guarantee first bottle Dr. Miles' Remedies. Send for free book on Nervous and Heart Diseases. ARE YOU LOSING WEIGHT

If so then your system is out of balance, and there is a flaw somewhere in your constitution, and a possibility that you are losing health, too. The falling off in weight may besight, but it makes a wonderful change in one's looks and feelings, and unless the building up process is begun in time, vitality and strength are soon gone and health quickly follows. If you are losing weight there is a cause for it. Your blood is deteriorating and becoming too poor to properly nourish the body, and it must be purified and enriched before lost weight is regained. It requires something more than an ordinary tonic to build up a feeble constitution, for unless the poisons and germs that are lurking in the blood are destroyed, they will further impoverish the blood and weaken the system, and you continue to lose weight.

In S. S. S. will be found purifying and tonic properties combined. It not only builds up weak constitutions, but searches out and destroys germs and poisons of every description and cleanses the system of all impurities, thus laying the foundation for a healthy, steady increase in weight and future good health.

Food may be bountiful and the appetite good, but still the system weakens and we remain poor in flesh unless what we eat is properly digested and turned into rich, pure blood. S. S. S. re-inforces the Stomach and aids the digestion and assimilation of food, and there is a rapid up-building of health and strength. S. S. S. acts promptly and beneficially upon the nervous system, strengthens and tones it up, and relieves the strain by producing sound, refreshing sleep. You can find no tonic so invigorating as S. S. S., and being composed exclusively of roots and herbs its use is attended with no bad effects. Old people will find that it braces them up, improves the circulation of the blood, and stimulates all the bodily organs, and persons of delicate constitutions can take S. S. S. with safety, as it does not derange the Stomach like the strong mineral remedies, but acts gently and without any shock to the system. Those whose feelings tell them they are not strong or well, and who are growing thinner and falling below their usual weight, should take a course of S. S. S. and build up again. S. S. S. is recognized everywhere as the leading blood purifier and the safest and best of all tonics. We cheerfully furnish medical advice, without charge, to all who will write us.

"Stranger," said she, "how long kin a man kitter stay under water?"

"The average," replied I, "is about a minute, but exceptional cases have been known when they have stayed under longer."

"Well, this is one o' them there exceptional cases."

DOCTORS KNEW

HAD TRIED IT HIMSELF.

The doctor who tried Postum Food office knows that it is an easy, certain, and pleasant way out of the coffee habit and all of the ills following and he prescribes it for his patients as did a physician of Prossertown, N. J., one of his patients says: "During the summer just past I suffered terribly with a heavy feeling at the pit of my stomach and dizzy feelings in my head and then a blindness would come over my eyes so I would have to sit down. I would get so nervous I could hardly control my feelings."

"Finally I spoke to our family physician about it and he asked if I drank much coffee and mother told him that I did. He told me to immediately stop drinking coffee and drink Postum Food coffee in its place as he and his family had used Postum and found it a powerful re-builder and delicious food drink."

"I hesitated for a time, disliking the idea of having to give up my coffee but finally I got a package and found it to be all that the Dr. said. Since drinking the Postum in place of coffee my dizziness, blindness and nervousness are all gone, my bowels are regular and I am again well and strong. That is a short statement of what Postum has done for me." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

TO VOTERS OF ALL PARTIES.
Courier-Journal.

The people of Kentucky should be particularly interested in the announcement that the state of Ohio is to vote in November on an amendment to its constitution designed to produce an effect similar to that hoped for from the constitutional amendment pending in Kentucky, which is to allow cities and towns of the state to adopt their own system of taxation for local purposes.

This is a day of sharp competition between communities for securing investments of capital and the location of those industries which bring prosperity. So far as favorable legislation can encourage such development, Kentucky cannot afford to omit anything that promises to help. The fact that Ohio is considering a question similar to that submitted to the people of Kentucky shows how keenly alive are other progressive states to the necessity of encouraging worthy business enterprises. It shows too, that if Kentucky neglects anything that will encourage such development, the state is sure to fall behind other states that are more alive to their opportunities.

The conviction has been steadily growing in Kentucky that much was sacrificed by our constitutional convention to its love for uniformity, at the expense of equality and adaptability. There seems little reason to doubt that if the people of the state can be brought clearly to understand the effect of the constitutional amendment which they are asked to vote upon, they will readily endorse it. It is not designed to take a dollar out of the state treasury; it is not designed to decrease in the least the state revenues. It cannot in the remotest degree affect the constitution and laws regulating the revenues of the state. It proposes simply to give the legislative authority when it sees fit to grant to any class of cities or towns the right to regulate their system of local taxation, for local purposes only, in their own way. The amendment does not require that the legislature shall confer this authority on cities and towns. It merely gives the legislature the power to do so if it thinks advisable. It does not give the legislature the right to compel cities and towns to adopt any particular system of taxation. It merely gives the legislature the right to confer upon these cities and towns authority to regulate their own local tax affairs.

There can be no doubt that giving such power to the cities and towns will permit them to afford perfectly legitimate encouragement to new industries, and result in increased industries, growth of population, enhancement in the value of real estate, better home markets, more work for laborers, steadier employment, better wages and the free investment of capital in home enterprises.

Certainly these are results that should appeal to every citizen of the state.

It is one of the greatest importance that every voter should study this question until he fully comprehends the nature of the proposition and should vote upon it. If the amendment fails to carry at the approaching November election it cannot again be submitted until after the lapse of five years, and five years in these hurrying times is too long a period for any enterprising state to be hobbling along, carrying an unnecessary weight while other states, more alive to their opportunities, are cutting down all local barriers in the way of an increased investment of capital and of multiplied industries.

IN THE LOCAL COURTS

Judge Sanders Has a Demonstration of Crap Shooting.

No Evidence Against Al Phelps—Proprietors of Stag Held to Answer.

CIRCUIT AND OTHER COURTS

POLICE COURT.

Judge D. L. Sanders, judge of the Paducah police court, had a practical demonstration of the art of crap shooting in his court room this morning, much to the amusement of the several sports present and the other spectators who had come to hear the trials in the court.

The exemplification was held in the case against Al Phelps, who was charged with having been gaming the night Willis Mount shot and killed Willis Nutty in a room over the Stag saloon on Fourth street. There was some misunderstanding in the mind of the court as to certain points of the game and he could not see clearly what was meant by the term "fading." Albert Atkinson, one of the witnesses, understood a little better and under the pressing persuasion of the court, kindly agreed to give a few points. He got out of his chair and with much care and precision explained to the court all the terms used in the ordinary game. Judge Sanders thanked Mr. Atkinson for the service and calling his court to order again resumed the hearing of the case. As there was no evidence produced to convict Phelps, he was dismissed of the charge.

Messrs. Bob Wathen and John Cashion, proprietors of the Stag saloon, were held over a $200 bail, for suffering gaming to be carried on over their place of business.

The evidence showed that Messrs. Cashion and Wathen had rented a room to Will Bishop as a lodging room and they disclaimed any knowledge of a game going on. Bishop testified that he did not think the proprietors thought a game was going on but Judge Sanders thought if they didn't they should have gone on an investigation tour, and accordingly held them over. They had no attorneys to defend them, thinking the case would be dismissed.

Dora Crawford and Lizzie Vinegar, colored, were fined $10 and costs each for fighting.

Charles Foster, colored, was fined $30 and costs for being drunk and disorderly and for further abusing the officers who arrested him.

Florence Greer, colored, who kicked the door of a negro woman's cabin open, was fined $30 and costs for her trouble.

The case against Dick Brabie and Henry Pieper for throwing a rock through a window, was continued. The boys claim a negro threw a rock at them and the missile flew wild of its intended mark and crashed through the door.

Walter Hay, alias Tucker, white, and Lee Lampley, white, were arrested Saturday night by Officers Hurley and Owen and when the officers were bringing them to the hall, Will Tucker, another negro, interfered. Judge Sanders fined Walter Hay $1 and costs for being drunk and dismissed the charge against Lampley, the white man, and for Will Tucker taxed him $50 and costs for the part of the trouble he caused the officers.

CIRCUIT COURT.

The jury was impaneled in circuit court this morning, and this afternoon the suit of Miss Donna L. Carney against Eli Guthrie for $10,000 damages for injuries received by an elevator accident is on trial.

Judge Husbands this morning dismissed the suits of Stevenson vs. the I. C. and Nicholson vs. the I. C. for damages, thus holding that the cases had been dismissed previously. An appeal will be taken.

The jury is as follows:
T. A. Greenwell, C. S. McCammon, J. G. Switzer, W. H. Langston, J. B. White, J. D. O'Brien, L. G. Coleman, Z. T. Harris, W. B. McKinney, K. C. Ross, A. Buckler, W. A. Smith, H. F. WELFARE OF STATE

Depends on Adoption of Constitutional Amendment.

A CYNTHIANA EDITOR'S OPINION

Will in No Way Affect Taxes of People in the Country, Except the More Cities and Towns Build Up and Prosper, the Lower Taxes on the Whole People Will Become.

(Editorial from Cynthiana Democrat, Oct. 3, 1903.)

"And the General Assembly may, by general laws only, authorize cities or towns of any class to provide for taxation for municipal purposes, on personal property, tangible and intangible, based on income, licenses, or franchises, in lieu of an ad valorem tax thereon; provided, cities of the first class shall not be authorized to omit the imposition of an ad valorem tax on such property of any steam railroad, street railway, ferry, bridge, gas, water, heating, telephone, telegraph, electric light, or electric power company."

There is the constitutional amendment upon which the voters are asked to pass judgment at the November election, and upon the adoption of which the welfare, the advancement and the continued prosperity of Kentucky are believed to depend.

The change is easily understood. Instead of raising revenue to pay the expenses of city and town government—the salaries of the mayor, police, firemen, the maintenance of the streets, public improvements, etc.—by assessing personal property as under the present laws, the legislature may authorize cities and towns to adopt a license system. All property, real and personal, in cities and towns will continue to pay state and county taxes as usual. No change whatever will be made in this respect, so that people who live in the country may vote for the amendment under the full assurance that it will in no way affect their taxes; except, the more the cities and towns build up and prosper, the lower the taxes on the whole people will become.

It is certainly asking a small favor that voters cast their ballots for this amendment at the November election. There is little doubt of its passage. If the people do not forget or neglect to vote on the question. There is no politics in it.

AMENDMENT EXPLAINED.

P. N. Clarke Says Great Advantages Are to Be Derived From Its Adoption.

At a meeting of the Louisville Credit Men's Association a few nights ago Mr. Peyton N. Clarke, Secretary of the State Committee, which is managing the campaign for the constitutional amendment, explained the advantages to be derived from the adoption of the amendment. He said:

"For years, under our former constitution, all cities and towns had the privilege of home rule and the right to tax themselves for municipal purposes without interference from anyone. It was argued by some, however, that this was a power no town or city should have, and the wise makers of our new constitution said that it would never do—that all property should be taxed alike. So the revenue law was changed.

"But the result has proved the fallacy of the idea, and the effect has been exactly contrary to the design.

"Under our present law the grossest inequalities in assessments prevail and there is not a single advantage to compensate for the innovation. When every person is his own assessor it is not strange that there should be great irregularities. The rich man easily escapes his fair share of taxation, as he covers up his stores of wealth, while the poor man with his all invested in a modest home has to pay more than his share, because all he has is in sight and cannot be hidden from the assessor.

"The proposed amendment will remedy all this to a great extent. It simply authorizes the legislature by general act to permit all cities and towns to raise revenue for local purposes by licenses, franchises, etc., on personal property, instead of the present ad valorem system.

"Its object is obvious. Under the new law our merchants, manufacturers and financial institutions will pay licenses and avoid the necessity of fictitious returns to the assessor. All personal property subject to taxation will pay its fair share of taxes, and by equalizing the burden it will sit lightly on all.

"Under the new law we can invite capital and industry with assurances of welcome, and our state will flourish as a green bay tree.

"The amendment is a step forward and will place us in the line of progressive states.

"We have had a dozen years of the ad valorem system of taxes, and they have been lean years to the industrial development of the state. Capital has shunned our shores. Our mineral and timber lands lie waste. Our interest rates are high and our people lack the spirit of enterprise.

"Let us have the amendment and we will find a different state of affairs, and Kentucky, with all her wealth of natural resources—her great rivers and network of railroads—will blossom forth as the rose, and wealth will flow into our coffers, while health and happiness will be our inheritance."

The bill charges that Brown was under contract to supply the company with a certain amount of hardwood lumber and failed to comply, but charges that he sold the lumber to other concerns.

PROGRESS OF THE HANGMANS' CANVASS. (Louisville Herald.)

The pitiless demand of the Frankfort Officeholders' Machine for the life of Caleb Powers is relentlessly thrust upon the people of this state. Gov. Beckham demands it as a justification of whatever he had to do with procuring the Yontsey "confession." Commonwealth's Attorney Franklin demands it as a vindication. He is going up and down the state making over and over again his speech of bitter prosecution of this young man before packed juries and a wearied and unconvinced people. Here is the way in which Mr. Franklin was billed to speak at Kuttawa, Lyon county, on Wednesday:

COMING!

HON. ROBERT J. FRANKLIN, The Matchless Prosecutor and Orator of Frankfort, Kentucky, Will Speak in

KUTTAWA.

WEDNESDAY, OCT. 21, 1903 At 1 O'clock, P. M.

Come and hear the story of the mountain mob and war times at the capital. Ladies especially invited.

R. J. DOOM, Chairman. Lyon County Democratic Campaign Committee.

The Machine Campaign Committee are circulating printed copies of Franklin's speech all over the State through their political machinery to fan into flame a demand for Caleb Powers' life on the scaffold.

If Powers should get a new trial where can he expect to get justice in Kentucky, where Democratic orators teach their hearers that his guilt is a cardinal doctrine of political belief, and the Sheriff then summons only those Democrats to serve on the jury to try him!

And this is the plan to which degenerate and incapable leaders would bring the manly and fair play loving Democrats of Kentucky.

MORE DELAY.

THREE WEEKS WILL PROBABLY BE REQUIRED NOW TO GET CURBING.

There is much delay in sight for the block of paved street between Broadway and Jefferson streets on Third. The thoroughfare is now about ready for the curbing, and the city has not yet decided what kind of curbing it will allow the contractor to put in. The contract calls for hard stone and he wants to put in soft stone, claiming the hard stone cannot be secured.

It is claimed that it will take three weeks to get the curbing here after the city decides what kind it wants, and it has not decided this yet. The failure of the curbing to be put in will delay all the rest of the work.

YOUNG WOMAN SNAKE CHARMER KILLED BY BOA CONSTRUCTOR.

Berlin, Oct. 26.—A young woman was squeezed to death by a boa constructor at Voelklings, Prussia, while giving a performance in a menagerie. The spectators thought at first that her screams and frantic struggles as the snake tightened its coils were part of the show and applauded and cried "bravo" at the "realism" of her acting. The attendants, however, saw the woman's danger, ran in, beat the snake and slashed it with knives. The woman was dead when released.

ALICE of OLD VINCENTNES

By MAURICE THOMPSON

Copyright, 1906, by the BOWEN-MERRILL COMPANY

Underfoot it was slushy with mud, water and ice, the consistency varying from a somewhat solid crust to puddles that half inundated Hamilton's boots and quite overflowed Father Beret's moose-skins—an execrable field for the little matter in hand. They gradually shifted position. Now it was the governor, then the priest, who had advantage as to the light. For some time Father Beret seemed quite the shifter and surer fighter, but (was his age telling on him?) he lost perceptibly in suppleness. Still Hamilton failed to touch him. There was a baffling something in the old man's escape now and again from what ought to have been an inevitable stroke. Was it luck? It seemed to Hamilton more than that—a sort of uncanny evasion. Or was it supreme mastery, the last and subtlest reach of the fencer's craft?

Youth forced age slowly backward in the struggle, which at times took on spurts so furious that the slender blades, becoming mere glints of acicular steel, split the moonlight back and forth, up and down, so that their meetings, following one another in a well-nigh continuous stroke, sent a jarring noise through the air. Father Beret lost inch by inch, until the fighting was almost over the body of Alice, and now for the first time Hamilton became aware of that motionless something with the white, luminous face in profile against the ground; but he did not let even that unsettle his fencing gaze, which followed the sunken and dusky eyes of his adversary. A perspiration suddenly flooded his body, however, and began to drip across his face. His arm was tiring. A doubt crept like a chill into his heart. Then the priest appeared to add a cubit to his stature and waver strangely in the soft light. Behind him, low against the sky, a wide winged owl shot noiselessly across just above the prairie.

The soul of a true priest is double; it is the soul of a saint and the soul of a worldly man. What is most beautiful in this duality is the supreme courage with which the saintly spirit attacks the worldly and so often heroically masters it. In the beginning of the fight Father Beret let a passion of the earthly body take him by storm. It was well for Governor Henry Hamilton that the priest was so wrought upon as to unsettle his nerves; otherwise there would have been an evil heart impaled midway of Father Beret's rapier. A little later the saintly spirit began to assert itself, feebly indeed, but surely. Then it was that Father Beret seemed to be losing agility for awhile as he backstepped away from Hamilton's increasing energy of assault. In his heart the priest was saying: "I will not murder him. I must not do that. He deserves death, but vengeance is not mine. I will disarm him." Step by step he retreated, playing erratically to make an opening for a trick he meant to use.

It was singularly loose play, a sort of wavering, shifty, incomprehensible show of carelessness that caused Hamilton to entertain a doubt, which was really a fear, as to what was going to happen, for, notwithstanding all this neglect of due precaution on the priest's part, to touch him seemed impossible, miraculously so, and every plan of attack dissolved into futility in the most maddening way.

"Priest, devil or ghost?" raged Hamilton, with a froth gathering around his mouth. "I'll kill you, or—"

He made a lunge when his adversary left an opening which appeared absolutely beyond defense. It was a quick, dexterous, vicious thrust. The blade leaped toward Father Beret's heart with a twinkling lightning.

At that moment, although warily alert and hopeful that his opportunity was at hand, Father Beret came near losing his life, for as he sidestepped and easily parried Hamilton's thrust, which he had invited, thinking to entangle his blade and disarm him, he caught his foot in Alice's skirt and stumbled, nearly falling across her. It would have been easy for Hamilton to run him through had he instantly followed up the advantage, but the moonlight on Alice's face struck his eyes, and by that indirect ray of vision which is often strangely effective he recognized her lying there. It was a disconcerting thing for him, but he rallied instantly and sprang aside, taking a new position just in time to face Father Beret again. A chill crept up his back. The horror which he could not shake off enraged him beyond measure. Gathering fresh energy, he renewed the assault with desperate steadiness, the highest product of absolutely maddened fury.

Father Beret felt the dangerous access of power in his antagonist's arm and knew that a crisis had arrived. He could not be careless now. Here was a swordsman of the best school calling upon him for all the skill and strength and cunning that he could command. Again the saintly element was near being thrown aside by the worldly in the old man's breast. Alice lying there seemed mutely demanding that he avenge her. A riotous something in his blood clamored for a quick and certain act in this drama by moonlight, a tragic close to a struggle of terrible yet perfectly fitting justice. There was but the space of a breath for the conflict in the priest's heart, yet during that little time he reasoned the case and quoted Scripture to himself.

"Domine, percutimus in gladio?" rang through his mind. ("Lord, shall we smite with the sword?")

Hamilton seemed to make answer to this with a dazzling display of skill. The rapier sang a strange song above the sleeping girl, a lullaby with curations of death in every keen note.

Hamilton pressed, nay rushed, the fight with a weight and at a pace which could not last, but Father Beret withstood him so firmly that he made no farther headway. He even lost some ground a moment later.

"You Jesuit hypocrite!" he snarled. "You lowest of a vile brotherhood of liars!"

Then he rushed again, making a magnificent show of strength, quickness and accuracy. The sparks hissed and crackled from the rasping and ringing blades.

Father Beret was in truth a Jesuit and as such a zealot, but he was not a liar or a hypocrite. Being human, he resented an insult. The saintly spirit in him was strong, yet not strong enough to breast the indignation which now dashed against it. For a moment it went down.

"Liar and scoundrel yourself!" he retorted, hoarsely forcing the words out of his throat. "Spawn of a beastly breed!"

Hamilton saw and felt a change pass over the spirit of the old priest's movements. Instantly the sword leaping against his own seemed endowed with subtle cunning and malignant treachery. Before this it had been difficult enough to meet the fine play and hold fairly even. Now he was startled and confused, but he rose to the emergency with admirable will power and cleverness.

"Murderer of a poor orphan girl," Father Beret added with a hot concentrated accent, "death is too good for you."

Hamilton felt nearer his grave than ever before in all his life experience, for somehow, shadowy and formless, like the atmosphere of an awful dream, enmeshed those words, but he was not weakling to quit at the height of desperate conflict. He was strong, expert and game to the middle of his heart.

"I'll add a traitor Jesuit to my list of dead," he panted forth, rising again to the extreme tension of his power.

As he did this Father Beret settled himself as you have seen a mighty horse do in the home stretch of a race. Both men knew that the moment had arrived for the final act in their impromptu play. It was short, a duel condensed and crowded into fifteen seconds of time, and it was rapid beyond the power of words to describe. A bystander, had there been one, could not have seen what was finally done or how it was done. Father Beret's sword seemed to be revolving—it was a halo in front of Hamilton for a mere point of time. The old priest seemed to crouch and then make a quick motion as if about to leap backward. A wrench and a snap, as of something violently jerked from a fastening, were followed by a semicircular flight of Hamilton's rapier over Father Beret's head to stick in the ground ten feet behind him. The duel was over, and the whole terrible struggle had occupied less than three minutes.

With his wrist strained and his fingers almost broken, Hamilton stumbled forward and would have impaled himself had not Father Beret turned the point of his weapon aside as he lowered it.

"Surrender or die!"

That was a strange order for a priest to make, but there could be no mistaking its authority or the power behind it. Hamilton regained his footing and looked dazed, wheezing and puffing like a porpoise, but he clearly understood what was demanded of him.

"If you call out, I'll run you through," Father Beret added, seeing him move his lips as if to shout for help.

The level rapier now re-enforced the words. Hamilton let the breath go noiselessly from his mouth and waved his hand in token of enforced submission.

"Well, what do you want me to do?" he demanded, after a short pause. "You seem to have me at your mercy. What are your terms?"

Father Beret hesitated. It was a question difficult to answer. "Give me your word as a British officer that you will never again try to harm any person not an open, armed enemy in this town."

Hamilton's gorge rose perversely. He erected himself with lofty reserve and folded his arms. The dignity of a lieutenant governor leaped into him and took control. Father Beret correctly interpreted what he saw.

ANNUAL INSPECTION

Illinois Central Department Officials Leave Chicago.

Will Make Thorough Inspection—Some of the Big Guns Now Going Over Southern Lines.

DUE HERE THIS WEEK

The annual inspection of the operating and department officials of the Illinois Central began this morning. The party left Chicago today and numbers 50 and about one week will be consumed in the inspection. The lines north of the Ohio river will be inspected first, and after that the party will go over the Southern lines. The party probably will reach Paducah about the latter part of this week.

Another party of distinguished Illinois Central officials are now making a tour of inspection of southern lines. In it are President Stuyvesant Fish, Vice President J. T. Harahan, Third Vice President A. G. Hackstaff, and Directors Cornelius Vanderbilt, John Auchincloss, Charles M. Beck and Mr. Wyman. John Jacob Astor accompanied the officials as far as St. Louis, but left them there to return to New York to attend to personal business.

The annual directory meeting adjourned in Chicago last Thursday, and immediately thereafter the regular inspection tour of the system was inaugurated. It is customary to travel over the northern lines first, concluding the tour with an inspection of southern lines, but this year it was decided to make an exception to the rule, and the first inspection will be of lines south of the Ohio river. The deviation was due in a measure to the fact that President Fish is to be one of the speakers at the annual convention of the Interstate Mississippi River and Levee Improvement association, which convenes in New Orleans, October 27.

The first inspection was made in Memphis.

President Fish stated that the south should continue prosperous as long as the farmers received high prices for their products, and from present indications prices would not be lowered. This fact he attributed to the short crops raised in other sections of the country.

Speaking of the reign of prosperity and the likelihood of its continuation, President Fish said: "The few crashes that have occurred in the north will not affect the south, for the reasons before stated, viz., the high price the farmers are getting for their products and the ability to live well and keep their stock without the expense of buying feed stuff. That Wall street should have flurries was not unexpected in view of the amount of over-speculation and investments, but the south is in nowise affected by the troubles that recently have overtaken Wall street manipulators. Of course, I can not foretell what the future may have in store for the country generally, but I see no cause at this time for the south to feel in any mood other than that of cheerfulness and hopefulness. The presidential election may affect things but to what extent I can not say."

Vice President Harahan was asked concerning the rumors to the effect that the Illinois Central contemplated the purchase of the Tennessee Central and was interested in the construction of the Memphis and Gulf railroad, connecting Memphis and Pensacola, Fla. To both of these rumors Mr. Harahan entered emphatic denial. He was specially positive in denying the reported interest of the Illinois Central in the construction of the Memphis and Gulf railroad. He said that if the Illinois Central was after the Tennessee Central he did not know of the fact. He admitted, however, that he thought the road was built for the purpose of selling it to one of the established systems.

The official party left Memphis for New Orleans. There the party will divide, President Fish and possibly one or two of the directors remaining over.

A telegram was received here this morning from officials who are inspecting the I. C. road on a motor car, saying that they would not reach Paducah before some little time but would advise when they were coming.

The officials are Chief Engineer H. U. Wallace and W. J. Harahan, assistant general manager, and they travel in this motor car with the officials of the division on which they are at work. The car carries eight persons and this will be the first time it has Theatrical Notes.

Mr. Charles B. Hanford pleased two audiences at the Kentucky Saturday in "The Taming of the Shrew." It is seldom that such appreciation is shown a play as was shown Mr. Hanford, and he received so many curtain calls that he was finally forced to make a speech. Mr. Hanford plays the part of the tamer of the incorrigible Kate in a dashing, rollicking manner, and wins the admiration of everybody. Miss Marie Dronah, (Mrs. Hanford) as "Kate" was equally as pleasing, and the supporting company was first class in every respect. The work of Mr. Carlyll Gillin as Grumio, the servant, deserves special mention. Miss Eugenie Webb makes as much as possible out of the role of Bianca, the younger daughter. Miss Webb is attractive, graceful and reads her lines well. Mr. Hanford, it can be safely said, made an impression on Paducah theatre goers seldom made by anyone.

One of the most prominent features of Charles H. Yale's "Everlasting Devil's Auction" is a new and magnificent transformation scene, called "A tribute to Our Country" and is a radical change from anything hitherto attempted in this line and illustrates in a spectacular manner the notable and wonderful localities of our country, showing the marvelous beauties of the Garden of the Gods, Colorado, the awe inspiring grandeur of Niagara Falls with the rainbow mist and spray effects which are produced by a newly invented method, the Mammoth Cave of Kentucky, the Suwanee River, with moonlight effect, the Liberty Bell, of historic fame and other magnificent and notable scenes and epochs in our country's history. The finale of this scene is most inspiring and depicts Columbia as Queen of the World and thoroughly illustrates to what extent America has advanced in the eyes of the other great powers.

Mr. Joe Conley, who was here to promote two of the Elks carnivals in late years, spent yesterday in the city with friends. Mr. Conley is now with the Gaskill-Mundy company, which is furnishing the attractions for the Knights of Pythias carnival in Jackson, Tenn., this week.

The four Cohan's everlasting musical comedy success, "The Governor's Son," by George N. Cohan, under the direction of Mr. Fred Niblo, will be presented at the Kentucky Thursday night.

Nothing has been heard relative to when the big officials who today left Chicago to inspect the road, will arrive here, but it is supposed they will come the latter part of the week, or about November 2 as this is the regular time of inspection at Paducah and Louisville. As the officials are working south first, this might make a difference and the local officials are guessing when they will come. The yards and buildings are being well cleaned up in anticipation of their visit.
